Kelview Heights Women's Ministry Newsletter

February 2010

A Note From Beverly

While preparing this newsletter, plans are being made for our New Year, New You Mini-Retreat Day on the 30th of January. We will have a full report of all the exciting things that went on during the workshops, the Girlfriend Boutique and with our guest speaker, Kathy Howard in our March newsletter. I do hope all of you have made plans to attend that day. This is one of the best ways to get to know one another and be encouraged at the same time in our different roles as women. In the world that we live in today and trying to make a difference in this world, we need all the help we can get. If you have never attended a women's event at Kelview, you are missing out. Your leadership team works hard to make every event something that will never be a waste of time and they take great care in making sure that you will be proud to bring your friends and family to.

This month I will be going to Corpus Christi to lead a workshop at a teen girl conference on "Daddy, Do You Love Me?" This is a subject that is close to my heart as I grew up without a dad and I know the effects that it has on a young girl and even as a grown woman. The statistics are way too high of girls growing up without a daddy in the home. Unfortunately, there are many girls with a dad in the home that are distant fathers. They don't give their daughters the teaching and attention they need.

One of my sweetest memories of growing up was while in 9th grade in my Homemaking class we were given the assignment of a woodworking project. Why a woodworking project in Homemaking, I'll never know, but I had to come up with something. During this time, I had a very good friend, Debbie Hutchins. We were in homemaking together and went to church at Kelview together. Debbie had a sweet family and I loved spending time at her house. Her mom was an amazing seamstress and loved her home. Her dad was always busy working around the house as well as his business as a photographer. I always thought he looked like Lucas McCain from the Rifleman. The Rifleman was one of my heroes! When I spent time at her home, we would usually end up sitting around the breakfast table talking with her parents. I loved visiting with them. When Mr. Hutchins found out about our assignment in Homemaking, He came up with a plan to get us started. Debbie wanted to build a parson's table for her room and I wanted a shelf for my room. He drew up the plans and bought the wood. I don't actually remember building it myself. I went over to their house one day and it was all put together. All I had to do was paint it. I was so excited, not only was my project getting done, but I was going to have a beautiful shelf unit for my room. After all was said and done, I received an A for the project...or should I say, Mr. Hutchins got an A. :) He even brought the shelf unit to my house and hung it for me. I had more fun decorating that shelf for several years. Mr. Hutchins may

A Life That Says Welcome By Karen Ehman

When it comes to hospitality, it doesn't matter what size your house is, how it's decorated, whether or not it's spotless, or what you cook or don't cook. The secret to making guests feel comfortable is more about the condition of your heart than the condition of your home. Ehman gives you valuable tips on how to decorate well within a budget, make the most of your space, be prepared for unexpected company and create delicious, simple dishes your guests will enjoy.

not remember any of that, but I remember his help and his care in teaching and the time he took. That is one tiny example of what a daddy does. When a daddy takes the time for his daughter's friend, that makes him even more special. Thank you, Bro. Hutchins for the many years of your example to me of what a daddy looks like.

Victory BABES Report

On Wednesday evening, January 6th, 30 women signed up for a 12 week journey of weight loss. Since that evening, we have had a few more sign on. This will be an exciting time and also a time of hard work in getting fit and healthy.

At the time of writing this report, we just completed our 2nd week of BABES. To date our group has a total weight loss of 97.2 pounds. That is pretty good for program that is just beginning. 10 weeks to go and already we have seen some great success with our group.
